

Project Management: Final Presentation Checkpoint

Objectives

- Track responsibility and progress on a project by using a project-management document
- Show evidence of progress on the final presentation project by filling in the final project tracking grid

Try It / Solve It

1. Final Presentation Progress Report

Use the class time to make progress on your final presentation. Revise and finalize your ERD. Make sure you have all attributes defined, UIDs identified, relationships named, and so on. Use subtypes, arcs, and hierarchies if applicable.

2. Obtain a copy of the Final Presentation Project Tracking form from your teacher. Fill in the project tracking grid to document your current progress.
